Presented by Barbara Piper, M.A., TAP Consultant

Are you currently teaching or working in inclusive classrooms or other inclusive settings in your school community? Do you find yourself looking for effective instructional strategies to support students with special needs being successful in those settings? This training is one of the TAP trainings focusing on inclusion and will provide an opportunity to explore the following:

- Several instructional approaches to effectively teach ALL students
- Specific instructional strategies that are effective in teaching students with specific disabilities and learning issues
- Examples of how those strategies can be implemented

The content of this training will assist in instructional planning and teaching of students with special needs in general education inclusion settings, as well as when those students are in special education settings. This is valuable professional development for ALL educators!

The PM session is the same as the AM session. A Survey will be posted in the zoom chat at the end of the presentation. You must complete the survey to receive a Certificate of Completion. You can join the PM session if you miss part of the AM session.
