Wednesday, April 23, 2025

8:30 - 11:30 AM or 12:00 - 3:00 PM

Presented by Barbara Piper, M.A., TAP Consultant

Ever wonder why your students don't do what you ask them to do, when you ask them to?

This session will provide you with an understanding of these types of learning behaviors and what you can do to help students improve their performance in the areas of memory, attention, organization, and other executive functioning skills. Topics included in the training:

- The neuroscience of learning
- What executive function skills are
- LOTS of instructional strategies to support memory, to focus attention, to support organizational skills, i.e. executive function skills
- Applying learning strategies so your students can be successful by "doing what you ask of them, when you ask!!"

This training is applicable to General Education, Special Education and other interested staff.

The PM session is the same as the AM session. A Survey will be posted in the zoom chat at the end of the presentation. You must complete the survey to receive a Certificate of Completion. You can join the PM session if you miss part of the AM session.
